

I am beginning my career as a junior BA/apprentice

I have just started out as a junior business analyst, what are the certification options that will help me in my day to day job?

I want to progress my career as a Business Analyst

I have been working as a Business Analyst and would like to find certification that will help me develop my knowledge and progress my career. I have heard about the BCS International Diploma and would like to formalise the skills that I already have and to receive industry recognition as a BA professional.

How do I get back on track with my Business Analysis certification?

I started some business analysis modules a few years ago, but I did not finish.
 I am worried that my qualifications are now out of date and I would need to start from the beginning?
 Do my current BA modules provide exemption towards the international diploma?

Ready for the International Diploma Oral Exam?

I have successfully gained four modules at practitioner level. I am now ready to apply for the oral exam for the International Diploma and would like to understand a bit more about it before I commit?

I am a senior business analyst manager

I want to ensure that my knowledge is current and up-to-date to manage my business analysis team effectively. How can BCS certification support my personal goals, whilst supporting the development of my wider team? I am time-short, and would like to evidence that I am an expert in my field?
